From the rapid increase of population, and multiplied facilities of intercourse, the simplicity of manners that characterized the earlier citizens of Pennsylvania, is fast yielding to European customs, and our children are growing up unprovided with that mental cultivation which is so essential to the formation of a character to withstand the temptations to which they must be exposed, or counteract the machinations which the wily may invent for their circumvention. We have discarded the political errors of the old world, - let us also avoid its moral errors by adapting our popular education to our popular system of government. While internal improvement, agriculture, manufactures, commerce, and arts, are making rapid and astonishing advances, it is more astonishing that mental improvement the most essential of all improvements, should be so little cherished by our legislative agents. Millions are freely yielded every year from the public treasury...
