We will not be destroyed, for he is with us. We are precious and honored in his sight, believers are the object of his great love. God loved us before he put us in the womb and brought us into this world. God will never forsake his people. He would continue his love for they would still be a special people reserved for mercy. The expressions of Gods goodwill to his people here speak abundance of comfort to all of the spiritual children of upright Jacob who are praying for Israel. Through Gods cares and concern for his people, God created the people of Israel especially for himself. He made them into a people; God incorporated them by his covenant-purchased and redeemed them. It is the same way with those who are redeemed by the blood of his Son Jesus Christ. God showered his loving kindness upon them.
