This is the idea that recently prompted Professor Milton Fairchild of Baltimore, in a lecture before the teachers of Topeka, to advocate the appointment of a moral instructor by the University of Kansas to go about the State with a motion picture giving visual instruction in the effects righteousness and wickedness. That the moving picture is training the sympathy of the modern child can scarcely be doubted. I, myself, noticed children crying in a little theatre when they saw the innocent boy in the picture taken into his home to be punished for a deed he did not commit; when I was a youngster we stood giggling outside the door waiting with unholy glee for the first sounds of lamentation. It is this very ability of cinematography to expose...
